

Sagus Cliffs

Main Quest: Fallen to Earth

You have miraculously survived a fall from many kilometers above the Earth's surface. The Specter told you in your mind to fix the Resonance Chamber, thus stopping the Sorrow from hunting you and your kind forever. Unfortunately, the Resonance Chamber was badly damaged by your fall.

You'll be discovered in the Broken Dome by Aligern and Callistegé, two explorers who saw you fall from the sky. During your conversation with them, you will ask them how to repair the chamber. Both will give you conflicting advice about where to go in Sagus Cliffs, the nearby city – Aligern suggests speaking with the Cult of the Changing God in the Circus Minor district, while Callistegé will suggest speaking with the Order of Truth in Government Square. Afterwards, both will join your party.

Qorro Encounter

After arriving in the Reef of Fallen Worlds, you will be able to proceed by walking up the northern stairs to a large platform. At this point, you will be confronted by a group of mercenaries, led by a man named Qorro. He is looking for the "falling star", which he'll soon realize is probably the Last Castoff.

You will have several options with Qorro.
